Ultimately, the foundation became a model for states. “Dr. Wolferth created a model that no other state can match,” said Dr. C. William Schaub. Dr. Wolferth was chief of the Department of Surgery at Graduate Hospital when he retired in 1990. During his 44-year career, he was Department Head, surgeon and teacher at HUP, Hahnemann University and Presbyterian Hospitals, and other medical centers. He was a member of 56 medical societies and the School of Medicine and the Chief of the Division of Wound Healing and Metabolism at the R Adams Cowley Shock Trauma Center. Upon becoming the State Chair of the Maryland COT in 2004, Dr. Henry set in motion the addition to being recognized as an international expert in trauma surgery and soft tissue infections, Dr. Henry is also widely known for her untiring commitment to the educational efforts of the American College of Surgeons’ Committee on Trauma. Dr. Henry is also widely known for her untiring commitment to the educational efforts of the American College of Surgeons’ Committee on Trauma. Upon becoming the State Chair of the Maryland COT in 2004, Dr. Henry set in motion the development of an innovative number of educational initiatives which culminated into a very successful Annual Maryland COT Trauma Care Symposium, which she spearheaded for several years. Under her outstanding leadership, Maryland’s COT program became one the best of its kind in the country. While personally engaged in teaching TEAM (Trauma Evaluation and Management) to thousands of medical students, she also brought ATOM, ASSET, RTTDC, DMEP and other advanced trauma courses to the Maryland COT, making all of them regularly available at the R Adams Cowley Shock Trauma Center. In recognition for her tireless efforts at optimizing the care of the trauma patient, Dr. Henry has already received three Governor’s Proclamations, two Shock Trauma Hero Awards, the Shock Trauma Superstar Award, the Department of Surgery Teaching Award and the Marini Service Award of the American College of Surgeons. In 2015, she was further acknowledged by the Maryland COT with the establishment of the Annual Sharon M. Henry, State of the Art Lecture. CHARLES C. WOLFERTH, JR., MD MEMORIAL LECTURE Charles C. Wolferth, Jr., a nationally known surgeon and medical expert, spearheaded a state law that created the Pennsylvania Trauma System Foundation. He battled for decades to develop a foundation that would monitor the quality of care in hospital trauma centers. His goal was to help prevent victims from dying needlessly during that “golden hour” – the first 60 minutes of care that can make the difference between life and death. Ultimately, the foundation became a model for states. “Dr. Wolferth created a model that no other state can match,” said Dr. C. William Schaub. Charles C.
